

our purpose: as men we seek to stoke the fire of our DESIRE for Christ

study guide – session 3

our text: Living the Cross Centered Life (C. J. Mahaney), p. 31-58

Q – (p. 31) What did Martin Lloyd-Jones we don't know how to handle?

Q – (p. 33) How do you feeling about the statement "Our feelings simply cannot be trusted"?

Q – (p. 35) When focus first on _____, lo and behold, feelings follow! And they'll be _____ feelings, because they are _____ in truth. That's the _____ order."

What he mean by divine order?

Q – (p. 37) The author makes a distinction between "listening to ourselves" and "talking to ourselves." What is this distinction?

Q – (p. 46) Gibson’s movie The Passion of the Christ might have been visually effective, yet it was not “adequately able to convey” what?

Q – (p. 49-56) The author spends some time discussing Isaiah 53. How does this wonderful portion of Scripture draw your heart (and feelings) closer to Christ?

Q – (p. 57) If “the cross is the _____ of the gospel” and “God does something to us as well as for us through the cross” what then does the cross of Christ do to you as a man?

IOW, how does is the manly sacrifice of Jesus changing your heart?
...increasing your sacrificial efforts for those around you?
